

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Celebrate Idaho Day with a book!

Lewiston, Idaho - February 23, 2017: The Lewiston City Library will be celebrating Idaho Day on Saturday, March 4, 2017 at 2:00pm. What is Idaho Day? It is a day to recognize and celebrate Idaho's culture, history, diversity, beauty and greatness!

Established in 2014, Idaho Day commemorates the creation of Idaho by President Abraham Lincoln on March 4, 1863.

At the Library, local author and publisher Jim Hepworth will lead a discussion on Stump Ranch Pioneer by Nelle Portrey Davis. Originally published in 1942, this story describes a family's migration - a long and bitter struggle - from their Colorado farm to the forests of Northern Idaho during the late 1930's dust-bowl conditions.

Everyone is welcome; multiple book copies will be available for check-out.
